...within us all. Let us come forth this day as co-creators in the universe to create a new energy of love and light into the world. May this light be filled with the light of thy breath, the Holy Spirit, and may thy breath fill all that we touch to lift the consciousness of all unto thee, Oh Father, Mother God. At this time we come together once again in light and in the love of God, and as we lift our minds to the graciousness of his being, to his great light and love that we enter into at this moment, let us reflect for a moment that point within ourselves as we move within the kingdom, the kingdom of the Divine gracious light, we are trying to express daily in our lives and that through the service that we are funding today within this institute and the foundation that the light may touch many people and raise them into the consciousness of God. This day, this night, within this world, there is a great deal of energy needed to be manifested in order for the humanities of the world to know that goodness reigns and that God loves. There is a great deal of hatred being released upon the earth. There is a great deal of bitterness and resentment that needs to be burned off, burned off in the sense that it no longer has to be manifest again. If it manifests in the way many desire to do so today and tonight, that energy would be destructive and would be repeated again and again and again as it has so many times before.

So let us for a moment, go within and offer the light of God from within ourselves as a focus of love to the world and let that light go forth and translate the bitterness, the hatred and the resentment to love. Raise the darkness into light for where there is light darkness cannot reside. Bring love into those hearts of hatred and hatred will dissolve for hatred is only resentment, resentment for not being able to love self. If we place love within those hearts that are filled with this hate and resentment, love will reside.

As we link our hearts, our minds and our souls in at-one-ment and attunement with the sound and light of God, with his holy word and with the truth manifest, we pour forth upon the world and upon all of humanity this great light of love that all may be lifted up into a new focus that all may know that God does love, does care, and does wish all to return in love. Let peace restore the plan on earth, and that plan is love. And as we release this energy now, we move once again into focus with the Council within the higher planes above.

Greetings from each of you from the Council members. We have been discussing now for sometime some of the particulars that/have been asking us about. Rather than going into a dialogue, let us go right into the questions..

The question we first had was, do you have a specific funding formula with respect to ILL as to what to reserve for the support of organizations, education, and service?

** This we have been discussing and we really have not come to a true decision. What we have been discussing is the fact that if we truly develop the service under the institute as has been discussed previously, that a great deal of money would have to be involved in that level of development because if you are going to have Day care Centers, Nursing Homes, and the like this would require a great deal of financing in the beginning until they could pay for themselves. We are trying to come to some terms where it could be split in three ways equally so that each part will be equal unto itself, or excuse me, not equal unto itself but whole unto itself and self-reliant; but we are looking also at the fact that the funding may not be requiring as much money in the beginning as other areas in the future, i.e., right in the beginning the funding will be where most of the money will be flowing but towards the end the service and educational departments will require more money than the funding. So we are still taking this to heart. At this time we feel an equal split three ways.

BP I have a question with regards to Jim's current responsibilities with Inner Light Publications. Will Jim be given clear direction in order to finish the Egyptology book that he is currently working on?

** At this moment let me bring in again once again the Archangel Michael. This is a part of the discussion that he wanted to present this afternoon and because certain things on the agenda of the Council have been set in such a manner it was put off but now would be a good time. One moment please...

In light and love, in joy and peace, we gather together this moment and in this moment in the heart of God we dwell in love and in that love we dwell in God, so let it be. As you are asking concerning the publications for the Inner Light Publication and the book on the Angels of Egypt, at this time there is a great deal of stress within the entity/as he tries to focus on how to bring forth the truth that needs to be manifested within the book. There is a great deal of knowledge that has been flooded to him concerning what to present. Jim Some of it is so high in knowledge that if he were to attempt to present it to man today, it would only confuse and confound those that would pick up the book and attempt to read it . Therefore, we are trying to simplify and step down the book so that someone who pick it up would find it more inspirational and not maybe so much educational. This has been a challenge for him because now that he has been given this knowledge, he wants something to do with it and we are having difficulty at times trying to get him to set it aside. Likewise, because of certain doubts that have been placed upon him, by certain minds within the foundation and outside the foundation as well, he is having struggles within himself feeling confident as he expresses himself on paper as well as verbally. These past few days he has begun to regain that confidence for the atmosphere of confidence has prevailed. We are hoping now that he can take this back with him as he goes home and sits down once again attempting to write. It may be necessary to work in some way to collect all of the writings that he puts together for this book and at one point go to someone who can edit it and bring it into clarity for publication.

The major stress within him concerns the fact that as he reads other materials and he looks at his own, he wonders if it is truly of quality to be presented to a publisher and this blocks him. If he could feel confident that he just present the material as he receives it, and then someone will go through and edit it so that it is more clear, more verbally expressed so that people will understand where he is coming from and what he is presenting then truly the knowledge can flow through. For instance, the material that is coming through today maybe is not verbally correct, but it is coming through at any rate. We picked him because he is a simple soul, he is a simple mind. He has chosen this path of simplicity to show to man that God is simple, God is loving, God is not complexities of mind and emotion. So he has chosen a non-complicated mind, a non-complicated emotional being to express in — some see him as boring, some see him as somewhat uneducated in the way he expresses himself; but it is God coming through him nonetheless and that they cannot deny when they feel it within their hearts.

This also causes him some stress in the fact that he looks around himself and sees an educated world with educated minds who put judgments upon those who do not have the educational expressions of mind and emotion. He is overcoming that as he is becoming more confident within this pattern of communication but as of yet he still has not learned to sit down and feel confident in expressing himself in the written form. Maybe you can help him to feel more confident, or to find a way to edit the material so that he will not have to be concerned in this manner. The knowledge is there, it is up to him to relax and let it happen as he is relaxing now and letting this happen.

We are looking within the Austin community at this time for a way to bring about a certain few people that will be understanding of the flow of energy as you here are understanding of that flow so that we can come together once or twice a week and bring lessons through as we are doing so here. As of yet, we are not certain of this process, we will have to sit with these people and develop an energy pattern of flow as we have over these last few days so that this manifestation can be so free, so open and so personal. It may take time, and yet those souls that we are looking at at this time are quite mature in their spirituality and probably will accept that which he has to give very freely and very openly.

So we look forward to the opportunity that this channeling might continue in that manner.

BF We will certainly do whatever is possible to foster this environment. The discussions we have held in the past on the subject were that it might be to Jim's benefit long-range to be aware of what the editing process was. A number of complications in the process have been that the messages have not been of sufficient clarity in length. By that what I am saying is, for a 3 to 5 page document many, many subjects would be covered. As a result it is very difficult to classify the information. We felt that if Jim was privy to the editing process, he would be better able to have longer length messages of one subject and thoroughly addressing that subject. We will certainly this to heart and do whatever is possible to first preserve the ability to channel the information, become comfortable with that, and then develop the educational materials as required.

** We feel very comfortable with the processes that are beginning to take place and we feel certain that with your cooperation, much can be done and that in time the material that needs to come through will come through as you have spoken over an hour period, speaking on the same subject, giving many different understandings of the one subject rather than different subjects all in one hour.

BF That is correct, thank you.

** I will return now to the Council chamber and let Cato return as a communicator.

** So we begin again, with another question.

BF In planning for the future, what educational materials will be coming forth through III. I am referring to the second goal as outlined, which is the development of educational teachings to help man to understand self, find balance and maintain balance?

** We have taken to heart many different areas that might be presented in this manner. One is the material concerning educating parents how to raise their children, and how to go about planning a family before having children, how to go about preparing oneself for death, how to plan ahead of time both for the physical comforts and the spiritual necessities so that when the time comes you will be more prepared. Different areas like this can be discussed and discussed very openly within a very clear heart and with great love these things can be accomplished in the world. You have been presented with two people who at this time are working greatly with spirit in the A.R.E. Clinic in Phoenix who can present a lot of material in itself, and be a major focus for the educational.

As well, we will focus much light through III as in this manner as we are doing now bringing forth material that can be presented in a spiritual manner that can help the balance of physical and spiritual so that man will see truly the physical is a spiritual one if we take the responsibility that comes along with living in the physical realm.

BF How would we better foster an environment to promote the development of these educational materials? And perhaps Michael's answer sufficed for this. Would you have anything to add to that?

** At this time, the only other statement I could make in this area would be the fact of going to the A.R.E. Clinic and to other people such as these individuals and collecting the knowledge they have. If they wish to share it, put it into publications / the educational stamp of the III to be presented in a manner that will help not only in educating the individual at home but also in offering classroom environment or an environment such as a day care center where they can come and experience firsthand that energy that is presented verbally in the book.

BF Could you correct my conception about III. I am considering/ to be more of a function of spirit as such that would be lot more of a conclave of this nature in III activities than there would be on a foundation basis. Is my outlook accurate?

** In the beginnings there will be a coming together of spiritual and physical beings in this manner to bring forth knowledge and to help found the institute and to help give it a strong start, but toward the end of that founding period the communications will be pulled back to some extent so that those individuals involved at that time then can find their own place within the institute and not be reliant on us to do all for them.

TEF we give him the freedom to move ahead. What we are doing here is most significant and most timely that it should happen during the process of this conclave that we're having. I feel that with the coming of III, that while it is only now a paper idea, we will - we must - have some conception of how we will recruit adequate personnel to come to this and I would feel that it would require considerable help from your side in that those souls that must be identified in the initial stages and develop with the III should be made known to us and I assume that they will be made known to us in due course. As of the moment if we were to give it cursory examination we certainly wouldn't know where to start probably in that recruitment process. In any event, just as any of those things develop and go they'll go just so far as we are able to have the proper bodies to do it and of course, that's our principal concern not only with III but with the foundation activity is the proper people will show at the time when they are needed at critical moments and we must expand and must do our work. Any advice and counsel that you can give us along these lines would be greatly appreciated.

** We are drawing around this body at this time within the Austin area a few people that could be dedicated to the service of III in the future. We are going to have to look at III personnel differently from the foundation for these people we have drawn there for love and for service, and they will not be coming just because it is a way of expressing their careers or their professionalism or their ego; and therefore, you are going to find a challenge in the sense that you will be building much the same type of energy organization as the John-Roger organization based on those coming together for love of service. Maybe not understanding totally what their job is at the time but growing into it. Their wisdom will come from the God within and not from the books outside and you will have to learn to trust in their decision as they grow in this wisdom. True, your wisdom can be very beneficial and the wisdom of those that have the heart and the mind joined together in spirit and so it is you that we give the direction to guide these souls in their pattern of growth, but be gentle words of advice and love for this is where they will be focusing from, is from the heart and from the soul in love expression and service of God.

As the time is needed those people that are truly professionals may have to be brought in on an advisory level, but we hope that we draw them in with love and that they will make a commitment out of love rather than out of professionalism. This we will see in time as things develop.

JP On another level, as you well know this sacred place where we are here has been very close to my heart for a long, long while and I have had considerable concern about its future use and do believe that is coming into general focus. Today we had the opportunity to go across the wash to examine the area where the beam of light was to come down over the mountain. You gave us an explanation while we were here the last time concerning the focusing of light and I believe, its relationship to Shamballa. Is there anything you could give us on that that would be kind of a refresher course to us here? Because we believe that this environment will have a very significant part to play in our future.

** At this time I can only give a few words concerning this. There are three channels of light, physical focused light, coming into this area that join together which create a physical vortex of energy. These to many would be called ley lines. These focuses of magnetic electrical energy are forces that help to hold the earth energy together, to help keep it in balance and harmony in its physical expression, and as this vortex of energy is formed likewise, it creates in a sense an energy void that opens up a certain amount of space in the levels of time and space which draws down a spiritual focus of energy that is compatible.

with spirit coming in and manifesting itself and attaching itself to this electrical magnetic light that reigns as a force of energy within the physical universe. Then Holy Spirit has a better chance of manifesting fully within the physical universe rather than coming in and not having a level of focus to express from. So too, having the combination of both the physical expression of energy, the magnetic electrical energy as it builds a vortex of chakral energy at that center and having the spiritual light come in and blend with that electrical magnetic light you have great balancing of energy and a great force of light that can be released from this center out into many areas around so that a balancing agent can be created for many of the energies that are being balanced today in this plane within this area.

So it helps as a focuser and a balancer of karmas, and it helps to bring down a level of love into this area of the earth.

JT The fact that Shamballa is over this area, as I understand it, does this have any mitigating effect on the area per se? I often think of Shamballa in terms when I am saying the Great Invocation - we're talking about the masters, we are talking about the light, we're talking about the point of light, we talk about so many things that are suggestive of Shamballa in the Great Invocation that I have just focused many times on that wondering if there is a point of clarification in bringing all of this together.

** Truly, the focus of Shamballa in the area does place something of a role but not that major. Shamballa though being focused over the United States, plays a major role for it allows a great amount of wisdom, a great amount of truth and light to be manifested on this plane of existence in this country and that is why the United States today is the great power that it is, and has the great minds that it has is because the magnetic fields of Shamballa have drawn together these entities and these energies. Shamballa is a higher level of civilization that existed many, many thousands of years ago, long before Atlantis and is still is a reflective of the highest quality that can come forth from man today, and this is why it is focused over the United States at this time.

JF So, it would seem to indicate that the destiny of the nation and the destiny that was started by our founding fathers, of which some of us have had a part, is to clarify in the future a new beginning. It would seem through the foundation, where we have the freedom of government and the freedom of man that was given in the initial stages of the founding fathers so again some of those have a carryforward, are thinking now about all of these movements that we are now identified with as bringing about the freedom of the soul for the first time. There must be an illiteration between the two and in that our activities are actually paralleling except in another field.

** Yes, it is just a progression of the energy and an updring of the energy to yet a higher expression.

JF I was greatly moved the other day in which you made the assertion that the awakening of mankind now had reached the status of where it seemed as if it would not be necessary to have a full disruption of society in bringing down the economics of the country and particularly this country and a general face lifting of society in general from the standpoint of using the shockproof treatment, but rather more of an evolutionary approach that man was finally learning that world wars were not the way to solve things but these little bush fires that now start all over the world we are now able to deal with them on a single basis. I think it's very important to have a clarification as to whether or not we can look at some degree of stability ahead in connection with our preparation for the foundation's activities and for the III.

** Let us put these matters off until another day for at this time the energy is growing weak and it would take a great discussion and a great clarity of focus in order to bring forth a truth in this area. So at this time let us point our hearts again to the troubled areas of the world. For this tonight is where we focus our light and love. This tonight is where we place our hearts. For as we place our hearts we place our love, and as we place our love, we place God divine. May his light and love, his mercy and grace shine forth through the gracious light of the sun and as the sun radiates forth upon those who watch, the parado, the procession toward the funeral fire, may that light fill their hearts as it touches their skin and may it warm their hearts as it warms their flesh, and may that warmth reach out to bring peace and harmony and unity once again in a land that is so filled with blessings of spirit, and the awareness of God in flesh. May peace dwell here in these hearts and minds and may love rule once again. We leave you now in light and love, we leave you now but we are ever present in your hearts. Peace until tomorrow.

God Bless. Amen.
